Counterfeit Policy

Scorpion Oceanics Ltd does not use, nor does it condone the use, of counterfeit products and understands that this presents a serious worldwide problem which can result in substandard and / or dangerous materials being released into the supply chain.

To control this ongoing risk, Scorpion Oceanics operates a supplier approval process, carefully controlled within the “supplier and materials” database which forms part of the company’s UKAS accredited ISO 9001 Quality Management System.

Scorpion Oceanics works hard to maintain close relationships with its suppliers and will only purchase from those who can demonstrate their own robust quality and counterfeit control. Scorpion Oceanics continuously monitors supplier quality to protect against substandard and/or counterfeit goods and where any evidence of counterfeiting should arise the appropriate authorities will be informed.
